SWAT Teams Training On Airport Property

"Fire House" Resembles "Bunkers" of War Days

"Fire house" (indoor gun range) at Wayne and Northline roads is made of tires, dirt, wood, and metal. . . . FAA says it's "safe." (photo by Michelle Clark)

By Dave Atkins

It has been brought to my attention that SWAT (special weapons and tactics) teams are being trained at the Airport in an indoor "gun range" located at Northline and Wayne roads. The "live fire house," as some Airport officials like to call it, is located about 200 yards off Wayne and Northline roads in a fenced area of the Airport.

In my initial investigation of this "gun range/fire house," I came across a video tape of the building, which I am assuming was not completed at the time that the video tape was made (and I have no confirmation that the building is completed at this time, since no one in charge will return calls or talk to me about this project).

I have tried to contact Dan Kerber, Deputy Director of Airports/Airport Operations, but his secretary told me to contact Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara's press secretary. I tried to talk to Robert Braun (the new Director of Airports), and did speak with him once, but with no results in getting answers to my questions about the range. Since then, Braun has also asked me to contact McNamara's press secretary.

McNamara called my home twice to talk to me about this range/fire house, and concluded that we should meet and visit this facility to see what, exactly, is going on, but, since that time, two appointments have been cancelled because of the recent accident at Metro.

This whole investigation of the gun range/fire house started because of the video tape that was presented to me, and the fact that the building was constructed without a permit from the City of Romulus. According to some, no permit from the City is needed; any permit for that type of structure would be issued through the Airport. On the other hand, I feel that, possibly, a City permit is needed because of an agreement that was signed by Airport officials and then-Mayor of Romulus, William Oakley, on February 27, 1978, which says, in part:

"I. The Wayne County Road Commission will direct its contractors to obtain building permits on all building contract work at the Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport. This would impose upon Romulus such inspection activities as may be prescribed by the building permit.

"II. Romulus would not require a building permit for any airfield construction contracts (air-side or land-side), including grading, paving, landscaping, airfield lighting, roadway lighting, storm sewers and storm water storage ponds. This does not include pumphouses.

"III. Romulus would not require a building permit for any work performed by the Board's Airport Maintenance Division and Road Maintenance Division at the Airport."

According to the Romulus city inspectors, no permit was ever obtained to build this particular building, which is constructed of dirt, tires, wood, and some metal, with a bulletproof curtain on the ceiling. Some of my sources believe that curtain cost in excess of $30,000.

Just who did approve this project? According to McNamara, it was not he.

After I began asking questions, R. B. Jamison, Director of Airports at the time, was transferred to another position, and could not be reached for comment.

I, in turn, contacted P. J. Harte, Project Director, who at first seemed to know absolutely nothing of the project. When he finally did say there was a "fire house" on Airport property, he said there was not a need for a building permit from the City and, if he had issued a permit, it would have been done through Lieutenant Laatz, who, I found out later, had been retired for over 18 months, allegedly from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, so he couldn't have known about the permit.

According to ex-Mayor Oakley, if the work was done by the Airport personnel, no permit would have been needed from the City, but, if others from outside the Airport were hired, permits would be needed. Osborne Concrete poured approximately 81 yards of concrete for the building, but it is not known

if Osborne finished the concrete. Osborne is located in Romulus.

At this point in time, no one has been able to show, or has attempted to show, a building permit of any kind, whether it is to be a City permit or an Airport permit.

Chris Powers, a teacher employed by the Romulus school district, said that she has supplied Michigan Youth Corps kids to work on the gun range and other projects for the last two summers. The first year, the kids were paid $3.35 per hour, and this last summer they were paid $3.85 per hour.

"We simply work through our contacts at the Airport," said Powers, "and, also, there are some people down in Detroit that run the Michigan Youth Corp for the County."

She continued, "It was not simply a gun range project; the kids do other things. The kids that worked on the gun range packed the tires with sand, and then they stacked the tires on a frame and on poles. My job was to get kids jobs which was a governmental agency [Michigan Youth Corps]."

According to Powers, the first summer they worked on the project, she was told that they were erecting a building to train firefighters in rescues. She went on to say that she was later told that the building was to be used for teaching police how to rescue hostages. Powers said she had probably 20 kids assigned to the Airport doing various jobs the first summer, and the kids were assigned to the Sheriff's Department. How many of those kids worked on the range, she wasn't sure, but there were some who did work on the range.

The names brought to my attention most were Dan Kerber and Sergeant Dunbar. It has been alleged that Sergeant Dunbar and Dan Kerber are the forces behind the building of this range, although, at this point in time, that has not been confirmed.

I called to talk to one man, Sergeant William Dunbar, who is allegedly involved in the range, but he didn't return my calls, nor did Sergeant Monge or Lieutenant Koester, also allegedly involved in the gun range and/or SWAT training.

After all this, I had heard that the FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) had approved and possibly funded the gun range. I called Hank Lambert from the Chicago branch of the FAA, and he assured me that the FAA had nothing to do with any funding of any gun range on Airport property. In fact, he was not even aware that a range was there.

Shortly after the conversation with Lambert, I received a call from another FAA official, Len Mizerowski, who informed me, in no uncertain terms, that there was nothing wrong with the gun range, and that it does have the FAA's approval.

Several questions arise at this point in time.

Why would anyone approve a gun range on Airport property, especially an airport as heavily travelled as Metro, regardless of how "safe" it was determined to be? Why was this range/fire house built when no one seems to know anything about any building permit from the City or Airport or County? Who approved this project? Where did the money come from? Who directed its distribution? After all, it was taxpayer dollars that paid for it; why be so secretive? Taxpayers have a right to know how their dollars are spent. Why did Sheriff Robert Ficano say that the Airport people offered the gun range, why not use it? There was a training session scheduled for November 30, from 12 to 3 p.m.; who trained there, and what type of training was it?

I am presently awaiting another call from McNamara to set up another meeting about this range/fire house, and as soon as the meeting is held, hopefully, I can answer some of these questions for you. □

Glaze Killed in Car Accident

By Dave Atkins

Ollen Glaze, age 21, was killed in a head-on collision on Goddard Road just west of Rogalle Drive. The time of the accident was approximately 10 p.m. on November 28. Glaze was taken to the hospital and pronounced dead the next day at around 12 noon.

Apparently, Glaze and a female passenger, Samantha Ford, age 17, also of Romulus, were traveling eastbound on Goddard at the curve, going toward Middle Belt, when the car Glaze was driving crossed the yellow line, and a head-on collision occurred with another Romulus resident, Mary Cannon.

Cannon was treated and released from the hospital, but the Ford girl was seriously injured and taken to Mott's Childrens Hospital in Ann Arbor.

It is not known at this writing if the accident was alcohol-related, but a police investigation is ongoing at this time.

* * *

In another accident on December 3, at approximately 8:30 a.m., one Tenelia Wesley of River Rouge lost her life when she lost control of her vehicle in the snow and icy roads, and hit a tanker truck that was traveling eastbound on Ecorse Road. This brings the death toll for 1990 in the City to 17. □

Shopping for Santa Claus Can Lead To School Success

By Art McPharlin, Community Relations Director, Romulus Community Schools

With only 12 more shopping days until Christmas, parents are reminded that books are an important addition to any child's Christmas stocking. In a recent survey conducted by the United States Department of Education, more than half of all fifth graders surveyed said they spend only four minutes a day reading at home. These same children, however, spend more than two hours a day watching television.

Research has shown that children improve their reading ability by reading and reading and reading. Children's reading success may well depend upon how much time they spend reading each day. Students who spend as little as 30 minutes a day reading books, magazines, and newspapers are more likely to become good readers. Parents will be a good example for their children if they see them reading.

During this Christmas vacation, try keeping a chart of your own and your children's reading and television time. Are you watching more television than you should? Are your children reading less than they should?

Why not try a regular family reading session every day. Select a quiet time each day when every family member is involved in the reading act. Remember: children love to have you read to them. Let your children read to you, too. The important thing is to spend time reading.

Children who spend time reading at home are more likely to read faster, score higher on standardized tests, and do much better in high school and college. During this Christmas season, visit the Romulus Public Library; buy books as Christmas gifts and read more at home.

Have a happy holiday! □

News from Lansing

All information submitted by James A. Kosteva, State Representative for the 37th District

Simplified State Forms Sought

A resolution before a House committee calls for a new State task force to examine and simplify the forms senior citizens use to apply for State Department of Social Services programs. Supporters of the resolution point out that some of these application forms are 27 pages long, and that they can be complicated, intimidating, and time consuming, especially for older people. The proposed task force would bring together members of seniors' organizations and representatives from the Department and the Office of Services to the Aging, from the State and county levels, to study the length and content of the application forms and suggest ways that they could be shortened and simplified.

Bill Proposes Better Help for Impaired Health Professionals

House legislation close to final passage would create an interdisciplinary health professional recovery committee and establish a treatment-oriented process to help practitioners who are impaired by alcohol or drug abuse or by mental illness. Under current State law, the State and health professional licensing boards can only discipline an impaired health provider, often by lifting the practitioner's license. Under the House legislation, health providers who are found to be impaired could agree to enter and successfully complete a sanctioned professional recovery program. If the professional does not satisfactorily comply with the treatment plan, the appropriate State licensing board could then pursue further disciplinary action.

Lawmakers Seek To Improve Forfeiture Accountability

Current Michigan law authorizes the forfeiture to the government of any and all property seized in connection with drug trafficking. The proceeds are used by the police agency responsible for the capture, to support or expand their continuing drug law enforcement efforts. Problems have arisen in some communities due to the lack of rules and guidelines in reporting or accounting for forfeited property. In an effort to clarify the forfeiture law, House lawmakers have passed legislation that would require police departments to account for all assets seized from drug dealers. Under the bill, annual reports would have to be filed with Michigan's drug agencies director, declaring the amount of money and assets seized.

Michigan Banks Could Join Federal Mortgage Program

The House has passed legislation that would allow Michigan state-chartered banks to voluntarily become borrowing members of the Federal Home Loan Bank, which will allow Michigan banks to fund more home mortgages for borrowers with low or moderate incomes. Supporters of the legislation say it will help restore competition among all financial institutions in the State.

Bill Would Regulate 'Nursing Pools'

Many nursing homes and some hospitals rely on specialized employment agencies or "nursing pools" to provide temporary staff people to augment the facilities' regular staff. Temporary staff persons from the nursing pools, particularly the nurses' aides who perform much of the direct "hands-on" care for patients, are not required to meet the same training and minimum health standards as regular staff. A bill now before the House would impose new regulations on the nursing pools, to ensure that the temporary help they provide meets the standards of the permanent staff of the facility.

House Bill Would Allow Drag Racing on Ice

A bill now before the House would allow public service or charitable organizations to sponsor automobile "drag races" on frozen navigable lakes in Michigan. These races could be included in the popular "winter carnivals" presented in many communities, which offer a variety of snow- and ice-related events for residents and tourists to enjoy.

Megan Wilson Named World's Most Beautiful Majorette Queen

Megan Lynn Wilson, a nine-year-old fourth grader at Halecreek Elementary School, was selected as the World Twirling Association's 1990-91 World's Most Beautiful Majorette Queen. The competition was held in Fremont, Ohio, on November 25.

Megan competed with 18 other girls in her age division for the title. The competition consisted of modeling a gown and modeling a military outfit while doing baton tricks.

Megan has been twirling for four years. She is a member of the Taylor Baton and Pom Corps, and receives lessons from Lisa Simmons, an instructor for the Corps.

Other local girls taking honors in the competition were Megan's four-year-old sister Marissa who brought home a fourth-place finish in her age division, and 15-year-old Anita Ruiz, another of Lisa Simmons's students, who finished fifth in her age division.

Megan and Marissa are the daughters of Billy and Donna (Lucke) Wilson. Grandparents Alfred and Patricia Lucke also reside in Romulus.

The Wilson's would like to thank Schalte Trucking of Romulus for helping to sponsor Megan and Marissa. □

From the A.D.

By Fred Coleman, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

As a concerned adult who truly cares about the youth of not only Romulus, but of other communities as well, I think it has come to that time when we say, "Enough is enough."

In recent months, we have lost some of our young people to violent death. On Friday evening, a young man was shot while attending a high school basketball game in a neighboring school district, and most disturbing was the number of comments I received from our fans on how uncomfortable they felt at our game on Friday evening. Although we only had a couple of minor disturbances this time, who knows what might happen if we do not start taking precautions.

Between the Romulus Police and the School administration, we probably tossed out 40 people on Friday, including two who will not be back, two who will be ticketed for disruption of a school activity, and two who will be charged with trespassing.

What bothered me most was the fact that I was able to watch only about three minutes of what was an excellent ball game, and why? Because I spent my whole evening dealing with people who were obviously not there to watch the game at all.

As the director of athletics for this school district, I truly believe that one of my duties to this community is to make our games representative of both the school and our community, neither of which have a "thug" reputation.

This week, I proposed to the Board of Education and our superintendent of schools that we "strengthen" our current admission policy to games. I hope that some, if not all, of the following will go into effect on Friday for our Ann Arbor game.

- Only students from Romulus schools and our opponent's schools will be allowed to enter. ID is required.
- Only residents of Romulus and our opponent's community will be allowed to enter. Driver's licenses will be checked for residency.
- Individuals who are known troublemakers in either school district or either community will be turned away.
- Individuals dressed in "colors" that represent a gang or other such group will be turned away.
- People loitering in the parking lot or school grounds will be ticketed or arrested if they fail to follow directions, and banned from further events at Romulus schools.

At first, these rules seem harsh and unfair, but a mother of one of our players whispered in my ear, as she was leaving the other night, that she didn't know if she was coming to any more games until they became safer, and that really bothered me. Our own parents are being forced to stay away and "good times" are being pushed aside by "security problems."

Parents need to see what is going on in their children's lives. Clothes have become symbols of gangs and thugs whose intent is simply to cause trouble and possibly injure other people or property. What you may think is an "in" article of clothing may actually be the target that someone will use against your son or daughter.

School activities are not the place to meet to settle differences. Our games are designed for people to come and have fun watching their classmates/children show their talents in whatever sport is being played. They are not, in my mind, events that are open to whoever wishes to attend for whatever reason. Money never has been, or will be, an issue at our games. Good times and safety are far more important, and it's time that we addressed those issues very harshly.

I certainly don't want our programs to end up like some in the City of Detroit, where "spectators" are not allowed, but, more importantly, by no means should we sit back and allow a possibly serious injury to one of our youths or adults when we can simply restrict admission to those who wish to attend the activity for the enjoyment of the evening.

Comments concerning these proposals would be appreciated, especially from those who attend games regularly. Any other suggestions on dealing with these issues are also welcome. □

Double Victory Begins Season

The Romulus Eagle basketball program began its 1990-91 season by defeating Detroit Benedictine in both the varsity and junior varsity games last Friday.

The JV team was sparked to victory by the excellent play of the entire team on defense. continued on page 12

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

Santa to Deliver Pizza

by Dave Atkins

Though he won't arrive in a sleigh drawn by reindeer, Santa will deliver your pizza from the Pizza Barn, on request, beginning December 13.

Charles Talaga, the owner of the Pizza Barn, came up with this idea, and it is sure to be popular with small children and their parents.

Can you imagine little children opening the door after mom and dad have ordered a pizza, only to be met by their most favorite person in the world? The one they wait all year long to see? Santa Claus?

Eyes will sparkle, cries of delight will be heard, and more pizza will be ordered — or, at least, that is what the people at the Pizza Barn are hoping for.

There is some question as to how many Santas will be delivering pizza the first day or two, so, if he is a little late, please be patient until Santa arrives. (Remember, to have Santa deliver pizza to your door, you must request his appearance; otherwise, a regular pizza deliveryman will bring your order.)

I think that this is a great idea, and not just for the kids and their parents, either. I'll bet that there may be a few others, even seniors and people without children, who will ask for Santa, just to see the jolly old man and hear his happy "Ho! Ho! Ho!" □

Obituary

Ollen E. Glaze

DOUBLE VICTORY

According to coaches Mike Kowalski and Marcus Harris, the team came out rather tentatively in the first half and made a lot of errors, but then settled down and began to show some confidence, displaying the talent and poise that the coaches had been expecting. Although they don't claim that the team will go undefeated this season, Harris and Kowalski both feel that the young men will play hard, making their opponents feel the heat of some tough competition.

The 61-54 JV victory seemed to set the stage for the varsity win.

Led by a 19-point, third-quarter scoring performance by Torrey Mills, the varsity Eagles recovered from a very sloppy first half to overtake Benedictine in the final eight seconds and pull off a 66-65 victory.

Torrey finished the game with 30 points to lead the team in scoring, but the true margin of victory may have been the defensive intensity shown by the Eagles at the beginning of the second half. Trailing by as many as 14 points, the Eagles pressed and scrapped until they found themselves trailing by only one point at the end of the third quarter.

"No doubt, tonight was Torrey's night to shine — 19 third-quarter points plus he made the final shot to win the game. It had to be maybe the biggest highlight of his young career," said second-year head coach, Chris Molloy. "But one person very seldom wins a game by themselves and, tonight, two things stand out for us to build on besides the excellent offense of Torrey. We played very aggressive defense, which, with our size, will be crucial for us to be successful this season, and, secondly, we crashed the boards and kept the ball in play, which allowed us to pick up a number of loose balls to convert into points. Our fans will see that we are not very big inside, but we are pretty quick. If Torrey, Genesis Barnes, and Daniel Winston can hit for us from the outside and we can get Brian Humphrey, John Dinkins, and Tyzedd Bowles to attack the boards the way they did tonight, we are going to surprise a number of our opponents this season."

The Eagles open their final season in the South Central Conference on Friday evening, when they host Ann Arbor Pioneer beginning at 6 p.m. with the JV contest. Ticket prices are $3; students with school ID pay $1; senior citizens are admitted free of charge. □

RHS Volleyball Season Opens

By Fred Coleman, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

The varsity and junior varsity volleyball programs kick off their 1990-91 seasons with a tri-match that could prove to be one of the most exciting contests in our gymnasium this year.

The first game begins at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 12, with Romulus hosting New Boston Huron, which returns a number of their best players from last year's program. Also attending the match will be Riverview Gabriel Richard, and they, too, return their lineup from last season. Both programs have had excellent seasons of late, and expect to be very successful in their leagues this season as well.

The second contest of the evening will feature New Boston and Gabriel Richard, and the third will find Richard competing against Romulus. JV and varsity matches run simultaneously, so for just $2 for adults/$1 for students, you can see some of the best volleyball in western Wayne County on Wednesday evening at the High School. □

"Pinocchio" at Halecreek

By Mrs. Jeffery Royal

As part of the Positive Discipline Program at Halecreek Elementary, students were treated to a marionette show — "Pinocchio" — on Thursday, November 29.

Students who were able to make good decisions and follow school rules for the month of November thoroughly enjoyed this exciting event. The children were amazed as the story of Pinocchio came to life through the actions of the marionettes.

The Positive Discipline Team, with the support of the Halecreek Parent Teacher Guild, is very pleased with the increasing number of students participating in the end-of-the-month reward activity.

Way to go, Halecreek students! □

Helpful Hints and Slender Selections Recipes from Weight Watchers Make Holiday Eating Guilt-free!

Thanks to Julie Wells for passing along the following information from Weight Watchers

The holiday season is here! And along with it come all of the trimmings, parties, good cheer, and food! Statistics indicate that the average person will gain between two and 10 pounds between Thanksgiving and New Years.

Weight Watchers wants you to enjoy the holidays and not gain a pound! "The recipe is simple," says Florine Mark, Area Director of Weight Watchers. "All it takes is a little know-how, an extra ounce of control, and a sizable portion of planning."

Helpful Hints for the Holidays from Weight Watchers

- Drink lots of water. It will help to fill you up and you'll be putting a curb on your appetite.
- Learn to be assertive in any eating situation. A simple and polite "no, thank you" or "yes, this is all I'm going to have" will do the trick. Remember: it's your choice and your body!
- Focus on the 'Reason for the Season.' Having a good time is not stuffing yourself with food, but filling yourself with hours of fun and surrounding yourself with family and friends.
- Plan ahead. If you are going to a dinner party, eat light at lunch and breakfast that day.
- Eat slowly. Put down your fork between bites and join in on the conversation. It takes 20 minutes for food signals to reach your brain and tell you if you are full. Eating slowly aids this process.
- Exercise! Every bit of physical activity helps during the holidays. Besides eating greater amounts of food, the holiday season often brings on additional stress. Exercise not only burns calories and fat, but it's also helpful in relieving stress.
- High-calorie drinks and punches are common at holiday parties. Ask for Perrier or seltzer water with a twist, instead! Sip your beverage elegantly in a wine glass or champagne flute.
- Avoid alcoholic beverages. Alcohol stimulates your appetite and then, before you know it, you'll find yourself at the hors d'oeuvres table with the munchies.
- Share with a friend. If a piece of pumpkin or apple pie a la mode looks too, too tempting to pass up, share it with a friend or family member. This way you can enjoy it without having to eat the whole thing.
- Make sure you schedule some time for yourself. Added stress and the feeling of being overwhelmed can often lead to overeating.
- Remember: there is more to celebrating than food. Share funny stories, play a game that everyone will enjoy, or rent a classic movie or one of the new releases!
- Portion control. Selectively choose what you'd like to eat. Sample a variety of what is being served in small portions.

- "Seconds? No thank you." Tell yourself that you will feel better and will have more energy after the meal if you pass on second helpings.
- When holiday grocery shopping, stick to your planned list. Avoid impulse purchases such as packaged holiday cookies and goodies to "have on hand" during the holidays. Chances are, they will end up in your hand and then in your mouth.
- Don't go to a holiday party 'famished.' Have a glass of low-fat milk or piece of fruit before leaving home. You won't feel the need to "fill up" on snacks once you arrive.
- Don't eat just because the people around you are eating. If you aren't hungry, nurse some sparkling water or fruit juice.
- Skipping meals can make you think you 'deserve' to eat more when you do eat. Try to eat regular meals at regular times.
- If you 'slip up' and eat something you hadn't planned on eating, don't feel guilty. Simply recognize what made you slip, then make the change needed so that it won't happen the next time.
- Go for a brisk walk before eating. It will help curb your appetite.
- Plan what you're going to eat before you eat. Sticking to this plan will give you a good feeling of self-control.

Also sent along were soap, bathroom tissue, fruit, tuna, hot dogs, oleo, bread, instant coffee, soup, milk, canned macaroni and beef, and turkey cooked by the Center's staff. Thank you to everyone who gave toward this project.

This month, a collection is being taken for a Christmas basket. Please bring your donations to the senior center by Wednesday, December 19.

Potluck Dinner — Roast beef will be the main dish at a potluck dinner at the Center on Tuesday, December 18, at 5 p.m. Sign up at the Center and bring a dish to pass.

Bowlers Needed — The Senior Citizens' League is looking for seniors to bowl with the League at Romulus Lanes on Mondays at 9:30 a.m. Anyone interested should contact Mary Charette or Marilyn Masters at 942-6852.

Blennerhassett Tour — The Romulus Senior Center has got the perfect answer to those midwinter blues that are just around the corner: a three-day/two-night "getaway" trip (departs February 14). A cost of only $99 (double-occupancy rate) covers round-trip motor-coach transportation; lodging (for two nights) at the Blennerhassett Hotel on the Ohio River in Parkersburg, West Virginia; admission to the Middletown Doll Factory, the Fenton Art Glass Company, Little Kanawha Crafthouse, and the Make and Take Gem Show; and taxes and tips on food and lodging. A $25 deposit confirms your reservation; the balance must be paid by January 14, 1991. For more information, call Marilyn Masters at 942-6852.

Railroad Crossings

By Officer Rick Schwartz, Romulus Police Department

Do you know the dangers of railroad crossings? Of course you do, but how many drivers actually practice safety? Sure, most of us are in a hurry to get some place and don't want to wait at a railroad crossing while a 150-car freight train, traveling at 30 mph, goes past. Now think about it. Who's going to survive in a car/train collision? Usually the train. In 1988, of the 234 grade-crossing accidents which happened in Michigan, 21 were fatal crashes in which 29

TRAFFIC STOP

persons were killed. Approximately 73% of the vehicles struck were passenger cars. The rest were mostly trucks. Two motorcycles and one piece of farm equipment were also involved.

Three out of four drivers involved in those accidents were local residents who either drove too fast and were unable to stop, or disregarded the traffic signal or sign.

One hundred twenty-three, or 52.6%, of the train accidents occurred during the daylight hours.

In other years, railroad employees have died in grade-crossing crashes.

The final word is: don't! Think of all the grief put on your loved ones and loved ones of the others who may die.

If you have any questions regarding traffic laws, safety, etc., write to Officer Rick Schwartz c/o the Romulus Police Department, 11165 Olive Street, Romulus, Michigan 48174. □
